

"GLEE": THE ROAD TO THE RECORD BOOK: While the members of William McKinley High School's glee club initially feared that joining the singing troupe would hurt their potential popularity, this week's Billboard Hot 100 illustrates that the ensemble's coolness can't be questioned. (Sorry, Sue Sylvester).

For a second consecutive week, the "Glee" cast sends five songs onto the survey, upping its count of Hot 100 hits to 43, all in less than a year. The club first charted with "Don't Stop Believin' " and "Rehab" on the chart dated June 6, 2009.

With its five debuts this week, the "Glee" cast has tied the Bee Gees for ninth-most chart appearances among non-solo acts in the Hot 100's 52-year history. Here is a look at the groups with the most chart visits:

The new version of "Physical" - the top-ranked song of the '80s in Billboard's Hot 100 50th anniversary recap in 2008 - features Olivia Newton-John and lands on the Hot 100 at #89. The superstar, who guested on last week's episode of "Glee," makes her 37th career Hot 100 appearance and first since her remake of her own "I Honestly Love You" ranked at No. 99 on the chart dated Aug. 15, 1998.
